March 5th 2012 | 3:30 – 6:30pm
Emory School of Medicine Main Foyer

Researchers of ALL Disciplines Invited!

~

Special guest, Dr. Linda Degutis, Director of the National Center for Injury Prevention and Control, will be providing some remarks on injury research.

As part of ongoing efforts to connect and inspire researchers engaged in injury and violence research across the Atlanta Metropolitan Area, the Emory Center for Injury Control will be hosting an afternoon poster session.

Any previously presented or new posters that pertain to the field of injury and violence prevention can be shared. Students and researchers who do not have a poster available, but are interested in this field, are encouraged to attend.

RSVP

Please RSVP by Feb. 15th 2012 to Lee Helmken, lhelmke@emory.edu. If you have a poster you would like to present, please include the poster title and abstract in the body of your email.
